Metuchen Savings Bank employees placed pink ribbons on lampposts along Main Street & New Street in Metuchen on October 6th to symbolize Breast Cancer Awareness during the month of October. In recent years this task has been quarterbacked by the Chamber of Commerce staff who arranges volunteers from Metuchen High School, local Girl Scout Troops or private citizens who volunteer their time for community service initiatives.

Metuchen Savings Bank is a community Bank with a big heart. When the Chamber struggled to find volunteers this year the Bank stepped in to assist. "Metuchen Savings Bank is open late every Thursday", said Joe Razzano, VP & Branch Manager, "so several of our staff volunteered to give up some of their dinner hour in order to help put up the pink ribbons that will draw attention to this terrible disease".

"Bank employees also fielded a team for the YMCA Annual Janice Garbolino 5K that raised funds in support of Livestrong® programs for cancer survivors at the Y", said Jennie Piperi, VP Human Resources. Piperi added, "Metuchen Savings Bank contributes to numerous programs that support the safety and security of its citizens and add to the quality of life for persons of all ages. We are proud to be team players".
